Thank you for the opportunity of letting JasonL quote on your project. Here is a presentation I've put together for you to give you a clear visual of the items we've quoted on and how great your office fitout will look.

As part of our sales process, we will do a final check of all stock on your quote at the time of order confirmation and deposit payment. We can only reserve stock on confirmation of order and payment. If any issues arise around stock availability we will provide time lines and alternatives with you to ensure we can fulfil your order and your expectations.

I look forward to working with you to create an office environment that you love & enables your people to do their best.

Kind Regards,

experience

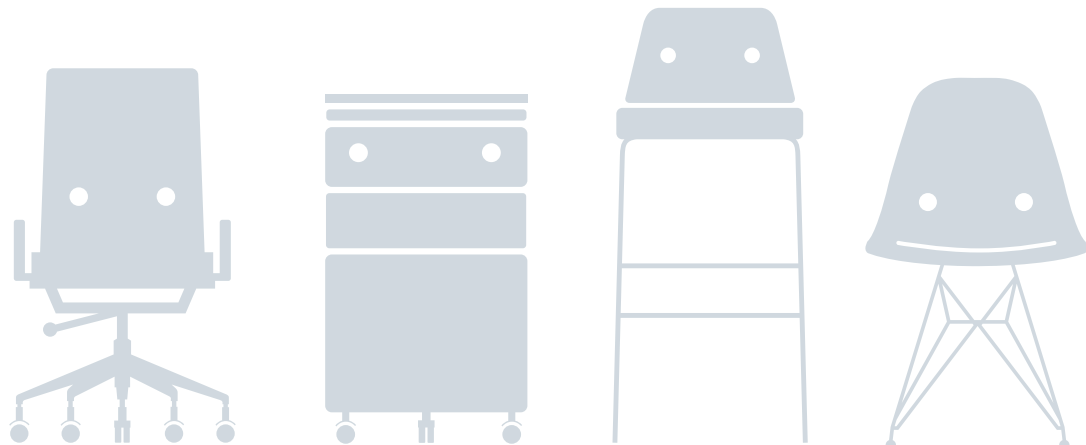

Smorgan Gutman Group put their faith in JasonL to help them develop a spec fitout that best showcased their newly refurbished building. We fitted out an entire floor with a modern, collaborative design focus whilst still maintaining the existing buildings charm.

the finer details

Our team of experts recommended some of our most popular collaborative furniture, which was ultimately well received, allowing the building to be leased in a matter of weeks. Once leased we then worked on the rest of the building replicating the original floors success.
